

Fausto Marseglia

Head of Industry Solutions, Planning & Execution - Thomson Reuters

Fausto Marseglia leads the definition and execution of new business initiatives in the Financial & Risk organization of Thomson Reuters. Those opportunities are typically executed via organic development, strategic partnerships, and/or client co-development. In this capacity, he has worked on multiple initiatives in several strategic sectors, including Risk, Regulatory Compliance and Asset & Investment Management.

Fausto joined Reuters in January 2002 as Head of Reuters Consulting Italy/Greece. Since then, he has covered different roles in the Professional Services organization, the last of which was “Global Head of Solutions Services”, where he was in charge of the global professional services and consulting capability of the Solutions business unit in Thomson Reuters Markets. In that capacity, he was accountable for providing specialized consulting support and delivering solutions projects to customers in the financial market.

Prior to joining Reuters, Fausto was responsible of the TIBCO Finance Technology Inc (TFTI) branch in Italy, accountable for revenue, contribution and delivery of the TFTI operations in Italy

Fausto has a degree in Computer Science, he has 2 children and he likes skiing, running, biking and, more importantly, enjoying time with his children.
